The Oregon Central Bill Ready for the President.

SENATE CHANGES CONCURRED IN.

The House Posses the Indian Appropriation Bill— Schwatzke Bequest Denied—The Woman. Suffragiste.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The Oklahama resolutions of Plumb and Vest were placed before the senate.

Vest withdrew his resolution. In doing so he took occasion to say there could be no doubt whatever that, as the hows stood, the Oklahoma lands were not, as this time, subject to settlement by whites. The president, therefore, was unable to do otherwise than as he had done. Vest said he was astonished to see that a statement had been made at the other end of the capital to the effect that the president, in his action in this matter, was violating the law. Nothing could be turtuer from the fact. The president was compelled to execute the taw, and the law was clearly and uniquestionably against permitting white settlers to go on these lands. Vest televed it inertiable that the lands wou d, in time, he opened up to such settlers, but that time was not now. He expressed a hops that congress would take action on the matter, and ever bloodshed. The remaining rights of the Indians to the lands in question should be purchased.

Indians to the lands in question should be pur-chased.

Dawse said we had no right to open up these lands for settlianent. The United States could not trample on lislown resides.

Harrison suggested that the committee on In-cine affairs might at once report unfavorably on the petition recently presented to the senate, which prayed for the opening up of the Olds-homa country. On the question of adopting such report theyeas and mays might be called, and record the sense of the senate thus secured, which might have the elect to prevent the con-tict now theselened.

which might mare the elect to prevent the boar-lict now threaten at.

Maxey said this was a good opportunity for the government to put its sent of condemnation upon lawle sacress. The lands which formed the subject of this debiate had never been surveyed, "sectionized" or sibidir ded. They were, therefure, ir no way open for settlement.

Plumb believed that most of the people who went into the Oklahoma country went there under the confict in that they had a legal right in do so.

went into the Unanoma country went there under the conviction, since they had a legal right to do so.

Maxay did not see how they could entaria n such a conviction, since they had been notified by every practicable means that they had no sech rights.

Plumb said much misunderstanding had been created by a runner that the United States indge in Kansas had decided that these lands were public lands of the United States. The decision was not to that effect, however. Plumb's op near was that the lands could be opened to self-ment by congress and the president, without the consent of the Indians. If prompt action were taken Plumb had no do the an entirely just and peaceful solution of the difficulty could be arrived at, with due regard to the rights of the Lidians.

Plumb's resolution, calling on the president for his views as to the present status of the Oxiahoma lands was then agreed to.

Vest then re-offered his resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to ascertain and report upon what terms the Creek and Seminabe Indians would surrender all their remaining right to the lands in question. He requested that the resolution lie over till to-morrow, when he would make it more comprehensive. The resolution laid over, accordingly.

Foster, Esq., (the road crossing hat this point, and just, as they were crossing hat this point, and just, as they were crossing his railroad track, as enjought with one open car, a caboose car and franger attached, came dashing up the road with great speed, without giving the usual whist e.or ringing the bell to warn travelers of their approach. It struck the horses squarely, thing bothf, carrying away the wagon longue and e. like front en. of the wagon, throwing both Supder and Meachain headbang into the snow, but, most singularly, doing them no bodily injury whatever, not even leaving a screach upon their persons as a nonnento of their mimo-slow secame. Had the team been extracted upon their persons as a nonnento of their mimo-slow is escape. Had the trace have been instantly killed. There is a curre out ending just where the toil road crosses the railroad track and a train coming up the track cannot be seen but a short distance from the road crossing. Had the enginer wheated just before on as heatered the cut, the accident could have been avoided. One of the horses was carried forty yards and thrown to one side of the track, while the olner horse remained upon the cowestcher until the train was stopped, some three hadred yards from the place of the accident, where it was removed. The horses were a very valuable pair and the property of Mr. Foster.

He pretends to be horrifled because we drink good liquor and have a red nose, thus hoping to draw dust in the eyes of the public. But it won't do. The people know that here is no more to him than there is to a rootless sock without any leg—that is, just nothing. Our without any leg—that is, just nothing. Our nose is our own, and we pay for our liquer in hard money. Let the patent outside man put this in his pipe and smoke it.

A FREE THADE SURGESTION.

L.NIGON. Jan. 22.—Molinar, the well known wriet upon political economy, in a communication in the Times, urges that Engined, Belgium and Holland, the only remaining free trade countries, link themselves together in a customs league, like the German 20.1 verein, and combat the protectionist reaction in Germany, France and Russia. The suggestion is made in the communication that Holland and Belgium accept the Eng ish tariff, and thereby overcome the only real difficulty to the nation.

"The chief question is whether forgland or Europe shall give way, or whether they shall compromise their opposing claims. A TABLET LISCUSSION.

LISTIC K, Jan. 21.—Lowell, American minister, presided at a meeting of the Society of Arts this ever ing. Mr. D. Pilizeon delivered a lecture on "Labor and wages in America." He sair workingmen were not likely to initiate free trace, and that the government was more likely to be effected through niternal competition. A discussion followed, in the course of which Lowell observed that his position prevented him from expressing an opinion on the subject, but he would say that many far sighted Englishmen believed the adoption of tree trade in America would give England dangerous competition in all the markets of the world, because many American fabrics were more house; than English goods of the same description. Free trade would enable America soos to equal England's mercan flee marine, which had beresofore been impossible through operation of the American navigation laws and tariff. England would find America the most intelligent competitor she had yet met.

This action 4s understood to have been taken in pursuance (of an agreement with France, which country has hitherto claimed a protectorate over this region. A report of a more sensational character comes from Sistra Leone, to the effect that the German flag has been holsted in the interior of that country, which has long been held by England. This news, if confirmed, may lead to serious complications with England, as she will probably be indisposed to give up any portion of the fettile colony of Sierra Leone, or allow Germany an outled to sen through the coast possessions."

BUMORED OCCUPATION OF METEMORE BIMORED OCCUPATION OF MERIMINE.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—A report is current that General Stewart has occupied Metemmeh. This lacks official confirmation, but it is generally believed, as Stewart pushed forward with the greater part of his forces immediately after the victory Saturday near the Abon Klea wells. It is highly probable also that all the rebels who have been stationed at Metemmeh left that point to take part in Saturday's engagement, and it is thought unlikely that they rallied and made a stand at Metemmeh so soon after the decisive defeat. The government has telegraphed public congratulations to Wolseley and Stewart.
